

SOCIAL BUSINESS - THE GAME

Real life game for social entrepreneurship

About Social Business - The Game

It is a simulation that puts players in the role of probable future entrepreneurs. Participants go through the game individually or in groups, and can enter different roles. Each stage contains tasks that the participant must perform - a test determining the degree of their inclinations in the field of social entrepreneurship, testing knowledge by answering questions of varying degrees of difficulty.

How to play

Head to one of our partners websites to play Social Business - The Game.

Hello, future social entrepreneurs!

Welcome to the game "Social Business: The Game". Our platform will give you the opportunity to test yourself in the role of prospective entrepreneurs in the field of social economy, to increase your knowledge in this field, to understand what you need to improve to be complete in your work. The aim of this game is to fill the lack of information in this direction by giving a clear definition of social entrepreneurship, to give methodological guidelines for potential social entrepreneurs on how ordinary people could build their own social and sustainable small business.
